Honorable Richard M. Bernero:

I am writing this letter on behalf of my father Jose Ferreira's case. I'm Brizma Ferreira the oldest daughter of Jose Ferreira, I work at Quisqueira travel agency and multiservices, I'm a customer services representative. I go to "San Judas Tadeo Church" located on Manhattan, New York, I'm a married woman, mother of one child almost three years old that is his fifth grandchild, I'm a student at Hostos Community College. My major is microcomputer for business.

Since I have knowledge my father has support the family, economic, moral and religiously. He came to this country almost like all the latin people I know with the hope of giving us a better future, He came to this country to work for his family, our family. All his sons and daughters are very proud to call him father, because he was always a very communicate, lovable father, always trying to make us a better persons, a better citizens.

always encourage us to go school, to learn, to be a professional, to better ourselves. My father taught us how to read how important is to respect one to another. He taught us the importance of God in our life, he used to say: "the man who respect God our father, is a better man than the one who doesn't".

He was always a gentleman, always helpful to anybody or everybody who need him. He was always helping friends to move, giving everybody a good advice, he is what any child would like to have as a father, that's why all my friends from my childhood treat him as a father. My father was a hard worker, always on time, always responsible, always a good example to anybody who knows him. Every time my father took us for a ride anywhere, ybody greet us with smile on the faces, with respect, with love, I honestly can say that everybody who knows my father, loves him. He send money to our Country Dominican Republic when we lived there to support us, for school, for our food, our clothing, everything, he is a very responsible father. My mother and him didn't work because nobody is perfect, and they have their differences. But he is a good man. He hasn't been married to Catalina Arroyo his actual partner but I think they have a solid marriage even though they haven't signed any papers to prove it, but my father treat her like a Queen and she treats him like a King, they adore each other, they been together for more than fifteen years and, I hope they'll last forever, because they make each other very happy.

My aunts Mayra Ferreira and Maritza Ferreira can give you proof of the kind of person my father is. He's been a father figure to my cousins, always helping them, he raised his sister's children like he was their own father, they respect him and love him a lot. He used to take us to the park, he used to play baseball with my brothers and cousins, and Catalina's sons. All five of his grandchildren are very fond of him, they ask for him, they miss him a lot.

Honorable judge Richard M. Berman with all the respect you deserve, I would like to point to the fact that I know my father's guilty plea on this case. Yes, I am aware of the charges and I believe this incident runs contrary to father's good character and his upstanding citizenship.
Everybody who knows him are surprised something like this is happening based on our knowledge of my father's character. I just want you please, to take in consideration that everybody make mistakes and, I know for sure he had learn from it and that he has a very large family that needs him and miss him a lot.

Thanks for giving me the opportunity to express myself, have a very nice day. Thank you.

Honorable Richard M. Berman,

My name is Yudelky Ferreira. I am the second daughter of Jose Ferreira, and I am the mother of three children: Yennifer, Brian, and Albonia, who are my father's first grandchildren. They love and respect him, as he does them.

I know my dad pled guilty to the charges he is accused of, I just want the opportunity to tell you that in spite of the error my dad committed, he also has a lot of great qualities. For example, as a father, he's the best dad in the world, caring, a good communicator, loving, protecting, and responsible. He is always looking out for his kids and grandchildren, always available to lend a hand when we need him most. For example, he sacrificed a lot to separate himself from us to come to this country to work hard in order to give us a better future. He fought, he put in a lot of effort, and as soon as he could bring us here, he brought us. He is always giving us guidance and telling us to study and to work hard to be able to have a better future.

He always supported us economically, both before and after he came to this country. Later on while he was here, I formed a family with the father of my children and separated myself from my dad, but we have always established communication and we visit him often. Even after I was married he is still always guiding me and giving me advice to keep studying, that if I took the time I could do it, etc.

Later after a long time my husband and I separated and my dad gave me the support that daughters need from fathers in such difficult moments in life. I went to his house with my daughters, he gave us food, a roof, and all the love in the world. It seemed like I had never left his side. He always advised me and helped me bit by bit to get over such a painful situation.

My children love him, he's like a father for them. He guides them, educates them, always makes sure if they've done their homework, if they've eaten enough. He always taught them to be disciplined people with authority and great respect. Finally, my dad is a very important part, very important part in my life and for my three children.

I love my dad, [unreadable] what I wrote before should be taken into consideration, because we have maintained a very beautiful relationship, like all families have some kind of difference because when a person is young she always believes she knows everything, but thanks to God he has always been here to guide me and scold me, he is my support, he is my life, he is my everything, because of that and for more things - if I wrote about them all it would be a book, and not a short one.

I ask you, I beg you with all the respect that you deserve, to give him the opportunity to stay here with us, we love him, and we need him very much.

Como padre el mejor papá del

siempre está al pendiente de sus hijos y nietos, siempre dispuesto a

Dear Sir:

My name is Ethel Harper-Winston and I am the ex-wife of Jose Ferreira whom have been detained for re-entering the United States after receiving a sentence prior of deportation.

I am writing this letter to plead with you to have mercy on my ex- husband Jose, who only wanted to escape the poverty of his native country, The Dominican Republic. He knew and understood the risk of his life and freedom involved, however he made a horrifying decision in coming back to the United States illegally. I remember speaking to him sometime ago and he expressed how very uncomfortable it was for him living here, always having to fear that he would be apprehended and the consequences that he would endure. That prediction came true.

In spite of the tremendous amount of love I had and will have for him, we decided to end our marriage after he was sentenced to deportation in 1997. I knew that I would not be relocating to his country and did not expect to see him here again. I know that he's a wonderful person that made a few bad decisions.

Further, I want to bring to your attention that he has no extensive criminal background.

In closing, I would also like to express that my heart goes out to him and I am truly sorry. My prayers are with him. Your Honor, I beg for your leniency. The remainder of his life lies entirely in you hands.

Respectfully & most sincerely,

I met Mr. Jose Ferreira in 1994 whom I joined in matrimony. As a single mother of 4 children, I found (in him) a huge support to help raise them. We both worked hard and made our household a stable one. Jose Ferreira is a very respectful, tender loving man, of noble emotions for us all and towards society.

Your Honor, the sole purpose that Mr. Ferreira had for his illegal reentry into the country was his wish to continue being as a real family. He worked over 40 hours a week so we could achieve the American dream.

I thank you for whatever attention you might confer on my letter.

Dear Judge Berman:

This letter is to express my sorrow on the situation concerning the case of Jose Ferreira. I am aware that he is currently in jail because he re-entered the United States illicitly. My name is Mayra Ferreira and I am Jose Ferreira's younger sister. I have been employed with Beekman Tenants Corporation for over 15 years as a Housekeeper. I provide the highest customer services and room service to apartment owners in mid-town Manhattan. I am proud of the work that I do because as a single parent and through my employment I have been able to provide my two daughters with a college education.

Jose Ferreira has been a responsible, energetic, loving person. Moreover, he has been an excellent brother, a father to his children as well as to my two daughters. Raising two daughters in New York has been a difficult task, but my brother has always been there helping and being a father figure to them. When one of my brothers passed away a few years ago, Jose was there for me financially, mentally, and emotionally. Through his spirit and support as well as other family members and friends I was able to ease my pain. We went to church together; we pray and maintain a tight family bond.

Jose has always been a hardworking man who has never forgotten about this family. I remember going with him to send money to Dominican Republic when his children were there as well as to buy phone cards to speak to them. He never seemed to amaze me with his kind heart. There were times in which I needed someone to the heavy and handy work in my apartment and Jose was always willing to help.

I believe that his motivation and hard work have inspired many around him including myself.

Sincerely,

Mayra Ferreira

Dear Judge Berman:

My name is Enlly Paulino. I graduated from State University of New York at New Paltz with a Bachelor's Degree in General Business. I am currently the Academic and Partnership Counselor at a non-profit organization in Washington Heights. I assist youth through the journey of academics, providing them with 3 hours of math workshops a week to improve S.A.T and New York State math Regents scores. I also empower these students and show them that college is an attainable goal. I plan to pursue my Master's in Public Administration by fall 2008. My success thus far has been in many ways due to my supporting family. Jose Ferreira is an Uncle that has always been a part of my life and father figure. He has always guided, supported and been a positive role every step of the way.

It is with great pleasure to write about a man that is so dear to me. Jose is family oriented, excellent listener, motivated, driven, loving and caring individual. We have shared many great memories together. I remember him attending my first birthday party in the United States at Mallally's Park. It was a nice, hot summer day in June, I was excited to see my family together for my birthday, it was the first big family event since I had arrived from The Dominican Republic. I also remember Tio Jose taking me to McDonalds every Sunday when I was younger. He would pick up my two cousins, E dual and Mayi and then pick up my sister and me. The five of us would go to McDonalds and talk about how we were doing. We took turns sitting in the front seat of the car. He never showed preference, and this was one of the ways he showed us that he loves us all the same. Riding the car with him was always fun because he has always been an energetic, young spirited, happy man. He has always had a good taste for music and we definitely have that in common. I remember one Christmas he gave me a doll whose hair came off and had different color hair. I am not sure why, but this doll was one of my favorites. The same year he gave my mom a microwave she desperately wanted and needed. During many altercations with my siblings he served as a mediator. One occasion when Tio Jose was a great listener was when I was arguing with my cousin about him not visiting nor reaching out to the family and not being around when needed.

I was very emotional after the argument and my uncle came in the house a few minutes later. He noticed the tension and asked about what happened, I explained the situation and broke into tears. He wiped my tears and gave me a hug. He assured me that everything would fall into place and to give it time. I always provided me with a safe space.

This past year, he was at my graduation ceremony, which is one of my greatest accomplishments because I am a first generation college student. We took pictures and after the ceremony was over, he told me that he was extremely proud of me. I always joked around with him because he has a great sense of humor. At times I would jokingly tease him about his weight; he would laugh and tell me I needed to exercise. He always stayed in shape; he played baseball during his spare time and invited me to some of his games.

I admire him for being a strong, hard working, family oriented, loving, caring man. I am aware of the fact that he has declared himself guilty of returning back to the United States after being deported. However, he has worked really hard after coming to the United States. He worked long hours to provide for him and his children. He has always gone beyond the call of duty for his family and friends. It makes me sad that he is not going to be with us during the Holidays. Last year we shared the holidays together and we went to church. It brings tears to my eyes the thought of not having him around. He is so dedicated to my education and my professional development that he even sent me an article from the newspaper on stocks workshops. I pray that you would make this best decision in regards to this situation.

Respectfully,

Enlly Paulino

Honorable Richard M. Berman:

My God, talking about my second Father, it is so easy to say exactly what makes him Jose Ferreira; what I mean to say is that describing him is like a Work of Art that is both the simplest and the most beautiful.

Why do I call him my second father, for the simple reason that after I met him after I was an adult he guided me, advised me, loved me, corrected me; as if he were my real father. And that for me, since I am alone without my blood-related family, is very important and that is why I can say out loud and write with my best [unreadable] that Jose Ferreira is a great human being, friend, person, father, and like all of us who commit errors, they help us become better people. I know that he pled guilty to the crime with which he is accused, but it still does not fall under the good image he always taught me.

Like all human beings, I admire his fascinating qualities.

I, Katherine, met him through his daughters Brianna and Yudelk Ferreira, whom I've known since they were kids in the Dominican Republic, whom I've loved like sisters, and through them I recognize his role as a father.

I am living with his wife Catalina, who although she didn't legally marry him through paper, more important things binds them: in such a long relationship, love, respect, solidarity, and honesty have become the law of their hearts.

Thanks to his wise and correct advice, a year ago I did not make a mistake that I would have regretted. I give him all thanks to god that he considered me like one more daughter, and that's a pride that always [unreadable].

I hope that this Christmas our Lord Jesus Christ brings among us Hope, Love, soon, and much luck in this new beginning that is ours to take on. These are my most sincere desires.

Quisiera pedir perdón por haber violado las leyes de este país. país fue me acogió con los brazos abiertos, y en el cual pude haber vivido juntos a mis hijos, nietos, hermanos y demás familiares, los últimos días de mi vida.

Quisiera pedir perdón a todos los Ciudadanos de los Estados Unidos, en especial a mi familia, por la vergüenza que le he hecho pasar. De fue que una estupidez de mi parte el haber regresado violando de nuevo esta ley. y fuere jurar ante Dios y los hombres que esto no volverá a suceder. lo siento mucho, Su Señoría.
